REVIEW 1: LEGALEASE SYSTEM ANALYSIS

1. Acknowledgements

Our team would like to dedicate this section to expressing our sincere gratitude to all individuals and organizations who have supported us throughout the implementation of this project.

First and foremost, we would like to express our deepest appreciation to our supervising lecturer, [Le Mong Thuy], who provided valuable guidance, professional feedback, and timely encouragement, helping our team overcome technical challenges as well as the pressure encountered during the project development process.

In addition, we would like to sincerely thank the eProjects Team at the Head Office for creating the conditions and opportunities for us to apply our acquired knowledge to a highly practical project.

Finally, we would like to extend our heartfelt thanks to all team members and classmates who were always willing to support, share knowledge, and collaborate closely to ensure the project was completed on schedule.

2. eProject Synopsis

LegalEase is a web-based platform designed to connect individuals and businesses with professional lawyers through a centralized system for searching, viewing profiles, and booking appointments. The system addresses the limitations of traditional lawyer-finding methods — lack of information transparency, difficulty comparing expertise, and time-consuming manual scheduling.

LegalEase allows customers to search for lawyers by legal specialization and city/province, view verified profiles with ratings, and book consultation appointments based on each lawyer's real-time availability. At the same time, the system enables lawyers to manage their professional profile and working schedule, and to respond to appointment requests from customers.

The system is managed and controlled by an Administrator, who verifies lawyer registrations, oversees all appointments, and manages the platform's static content (homepage announcements, FAQs, notices), ensuring transparency, security and smooth operation.

3. eProject Analysis

3.1 System Overview

LegalEase is a web-based system that operates as an intermediary platform connecting customers seeking legal consultation with practising lawyers. The system provides search and filtering mechanisms based on legal specialization, geographic location and the lawyer's verification status.

The main system workflow includes:

- Customers search for and select a suitable lawyer.
- Customers book a consultation appointment based on the lawyer's available time slots.
- The lawyer confirms, rejects, or the customer cancels the appointment.
- After the appointment is completed, the customer may leave a rating/review.
- The Administrator verifies lawyer accounts and oversees all platform activity.

3.2 User Classes & Roles

The LegalEase system includes the following primary user groups, matching the Home Page, Admin, Lawyer and Customer features defined in the Problem Statement:

Guest (Unregistered Visitor)

- Can use the search bar to look up lawyers by specialization and city/province.

DESIGN PLAN	LegalEase	DOCUMENT	Review 1+2 +3
EFFECTIVE DATE	[10/08/2026]	VERSION	1.0

- Can view featured lawyer profiles, ratings, and public content (FAQs, announcements).
- Cannot book appointments — must register/log in first.

Customer (Registered Client)

- Registers/logs in and manages a personal profile.
- Searches lawyers by location and specialization (criminal, family, corporate, real estate, etc.).
- Views detailed lawyer profiles and books an appointment based on the lawyer's availability.
- Views/cancels scheduled appointments and receives booking notifications.
- Submits a rating/review after a consultation is completed.

Lawyer

- Registers an account with specialization, experience and location details.
- Submits verification documents (ID, license) for Admin approval.
- Manages their professional profile (bio, achievements, specialties, office address).
- Defines available time slots and confirms/cancels appointment requests.
- Views client requests and consultation history through a dashboard.

Administrator

- Logs in securely and manages all user accounts (Lawyers, Customers).
- Approves or rejects lawyer verification requests; disables inactive lawyers.
- Oversees all appointments — bookings, cancellations, reschedules.
- Manages homepage content, FAQs and notifications.
- Generates reports on lawyer activity, customer engagement, appointment statistics, and revenue.

3.3 Business Rules

The LegalEase system follows these business rules:

- Only lawyers verified by the Administrator are allowed to appear in search results.
- Customers can only book an appointment during a time slot the lawyer has explicitly made available.
- Each available time slot can be assigned to only one confirmed appointment.
- An appointment is considered valid only once its status is "Confirmed" by the lawyer.
- A customer may cancel an appointment before the scheduled time; the Administrator can monitor and, if needed, reschedule bookings on behalf of a user.
- A rating/review can only be submitted by the customer after the related appointment has been marked "Completed".

3.4 Functional Requirements

The system must meet the following functional requirements (grouped as in the Problem Statement):

Home Page

- Provide a search bar for quick lawyer discovery by specialization and city/province.
- Display featured lawyer profiles with verified status and ratings.
- Provide easy access to appointment booking and user login/registration.
- Display an announcements/legal-updates section managed by the Admin.

Admin

- Secure login/logout with unique credentials; lands on a Dashboard summarizing key counts (customers, lawyers, pending verifications, appointments).
- Booking / Appointment Management: view every appointment across the platform, cancel a booking, or reschedule it to a different available slot.

DESIGN PLAN	LegalEase	DOCUMENT	Review 1+2 +3
EFFECTIVE DATE	[10/08/2026]	VERSION	1.0

- Lawyer Management: approve/reject lawyer registrations, update lawyer profiles, and disable/re-activate lawyers independently of their verification status.
- User Management: view and update customer records.
- Reporting & Analytics: generate reports on lawyer activity, customer engagement, appointment statistics, and revenue.
- Content Management: update homepage announcements, FAQs and notifications.

Lawyer

- Register with specialization, experience and location details.
- Create, update and maintain profile information.
- Define availability slots and confirm/cancel appointments.
- View customer requests and respond via a dashboard.
- View upcoming meetings and client history.

Customer

- Secure signup and login.
- Search lawyers by location and specialization.
- View detailed lawyer profiles.
- Book, view and cancel appointments based on lawyer availability.
- Receive booking confirmation notifications.
- Update personal details and view appointment history.

Common Features (available to all user types where applicable)

- Search across records (lawyers, customers, appointments).
- Filter results by city/province, specialization, or status.
- Sort lists by criteria (lawyer name, experience, appointment date, location).
- Pagination for large datasets (default 10–20 results per page).

3.5 Non-Functional Requirements

- Safe to use: the web application must not trigger malicious or unnecessary file downloads.
- Accessible: clear, legible fonts and UI/navigation elements.
- User-friendly: easy to navigate with clear menus and an easy-to-understand layout.
- Operability: the application must operate reliably and efficiently.
- Performance: fast page loads and smooth page redirection.
- Security: adequate authentication so only registered users can access role-specific features.
- Availability: the system should be available 24/7 with minimal downtime.

3.6 Assumptions & Constraints

Assumptions:

- Users have a stable Internet connection.
- Lawyers provide accurate and truthful professional information during registration.

Constraints:

- The system is deployed as a web application, built with PHP 7.2+ , using MySQL 8.0 as the database engine (per the eProject Hardware/Software Requirements).
- Frontend built with HTML5, CSS3, Bootstrap and JavaScript/jQuery.
- The system scope does not include handling real-world legal dispute resolution — it is limited to discovery, booking and basic case-note exchange between customer and lawyer.

- Documentation must not contain source code, per the eProject submission guidelines.

REVIEW 2: SYSTEM DESIGN & DATABASE MODELING

4. eProject Design

This document (Review 2) covers the system design phase of the LegalEase project: the Data Flow Diagrams (DFD) that model how information moves through the system, the relational Database Design, and the Entity–Relationship Diagram (ERD) that ties the two together. All content below is derived directly from the functional and non-functional requirements defined in the LegalEase Problem Statement.

4.1 Data Flow Diagram (DFD)

The DFD describes how data flows between the external entities (Customer, Lawyer, Administrator), the internal processes of the system, and the data stores that persist information. It is presented top-down: Level 0 (context), Level 1 (major processes), and Level 2 (detailed breakdown of selected processes).

DFD Level 0 – Context Diagram

At the highest level, the entire LegalEase System is treated as a single process exchanging data with three external entities.

- Customer: registers, searches lawyers, requests appointments, submits reviews.
- Lawyer: registers, submits verification documents, manages availability, answers questions.
- Administrator: approves/rejects lawyer verification, manages content, monitors reports and logs.

DFD Level 1 – Major Processes

Level 1 mirrors the five feature groups defined in the Problem Statement — Home Page, Admin, Lawyer, Customer and Common Features — so every process below maps 1-to-1 onto a section of the functional requirements.

No.	Process Name	Description
1.0	Home Page Features	Public search bar, featured/verified lawyer listing, and the announcements section — available to Guests without logging in.
2.0	Admin Features	Everything the Administrator uses to run the platform: Dashboard, Booking/Appointment Management, Lawyer Management, User Management, Reporting & Analytics, and Content Management (decomposed at Level 2 below).
3.0	Lawyer Features	Registration with specialization/experience/location, verification-document submission, profile & achievement management, availability scheduling, and the lawyer's own appointment dashboard.
4.0	Customer Features	Registration/login, searching lawyers, viewing profiles, booking/cancelling appointments, receiving notifications and submitting reviews.
5.0	Common Features	Shared Search / Filter / Sort / Pagination utility invoked by processes 1.0, 3.0 and 4.0 wherever a list of records (lawyers, appointments, reports) is displayed.

DFD Level 2 – Admin Features (Process 2.0)

The Problem Statement's Admin section is decomposed into six sub-processes — the six modules the Administrator dashboard actually needs to ship:

No.	Sub-process	Description
2.1	Dashboard	The landing screen right after Admin login. Pulls live counts from D1/D2/D3/D6 (total customers, active/total lawyers, pending verifications, appointments this month) — read-only, no writes.
2.2	Booking / Appointment Management	Lists every appointment across all lawyers and customers. Admin can cancel a booking or reschedule it to a different slot; the old slot is released back to D5 and both parties are notified via D8.
2.3	Lawyer Management	Approve/reject a pending verification (updates D3 and flips lawyer_profiles.is_verified in D2), edit a lawyer's profile, or disable/re-enable a lawyer (lawyer_profiles.is_active) so they disappear from search without deleting their account.
2.4	User Management	View the customer list and update a customer's profile details (name, phone) stored in D2; can also disable a customer account via D1.is_active.
2.5	Reporting & Analytics	Read-only aggregation across D2, D6 and D7: lawyer activity (appointments handled), customer engagement (bookings/reviews per period), appointment statistics, and revenue — summed from appointments.fee for Completed bookings.
2.6	Content Management	Create/edit/delete homepage announcements and FAQ entries in D9; publishing a new item queues a notification (D8) to all users.

DFD Level 2 – Lawyer Features (Process 3.0)

The Problem Statement's Lawyer section is d

ecomposed into five sub-processes, matching the Lawyer Portal exactly as built in Review 3:

No.	Sub-process	Description
3.1	Dashboard & Analytics	Landing screen after Lawyer login: upcoming appointments, completed-case count, average rating, and earnings summary — read-only, pulled from D6 (Appointments), D2 (rating) and D11 (Payments).
3.2	Profile	Create/update personal bio, phone number, achievements and specialties stored in D2 (Lawyer Profiles) and its related tables.
3.3	Verification	Submit ID card and license documents for Admin review; view current status (Pending / Approved / Rejected) from D3. This is the lawyer-side counterpart of Admin process 2.3.
3.4	Availability Schedule	Define, edit or remove available time slots in D5 so customers can book against real-time availability.
3.5	Appointment Requests / Confirm / Cancel	View incoming booking requests from D6, confirm or reject them; a rejection releases the slot back to D5 and notifies the customer via D8.

DFD Level 2 – Customer Features (Process 4.0)

The Customer section is decomposed into seven sub-processes, matching every page in the Customer Portal sitemap (excluding "Home Page", which is simply a link back to Process 1.0):

No.	Sub-process	Description
4.1	Dashboard	Landing screen after Customer login: upcoming appointments and unread-notification count, read from D6 and D8.

No.	Sub-process	Description
4.2	Find Lawyer	Search bar and specialization/city filters (re-uses process 5.0); reads verified lawyer profiles from D2 and reference data from D4, and displays full profile detail.
4.3	Appointments	Book a new appointment against a lawyer's free slot (D5), view/cancel existing bookings in D6; a new booking queues a notification (D8) and hands off to 4.4 Payments.
4.4	Payments	View the quoted fee for a booking and submit payment; writes a record to D11 and updates the appointment's payment status, then queues a receipt notification.
4.5	Reviews	Submit a star rating + comment once an appointment's status is "Completed" (checked against D6); writes to D7 and refreshes the lawyer's average rating in D2.
4.6	Notifications	List and mark-as-read all notifications addressed to the customer, stored in D8.
4.7	Profile	View and update personal details (name, phone) and password, stored in D2.

4.2 Database Design

This section documents the LegalEase relational database exactly as it is implemented in MySQL (schema legalproject1, InnoDB engine, character set utf8mb4 with the utf8mb4_unicode_ci collation). The 18 tables below list the column names, data types, constraints and default values taken directly from the project's SQL script, and are grouped by functional area for readability. Every table uses an auto-increment integer column named id as its primary key; foreign keys follow the naming pattern fk_<child>_<parent> and their ON DELETE behaviour is stated in the Constraints column.

4.3 Entity–Relationship Diagram (ERD)

4.3.1 Overview

The ERD below describes the logical structure of the LegalEase database as actually implemented: 18 tables grouped into 6 functional areas (Authorization & Accounts, Profiles & Verification, Location & Specialization, Appointment & Scheduling, Payment & Interaction, Content & Administration). Every table maps to a page in the Review 3 sitemap or to a rule from the Problem Statement — including payments and refunds, which back the Customer → Payments page — so the design stays fully traceable to both the assignment brief and the implemented navigation. Two tables, email_outbox and site_content, carry no foreign keys: they are standalone utility tables for the outgoing-mail queue and for editable static page text, and therefore appear unconnected in the diagram.

4.3.2 Detailed Relationship Descriptions

Entity A	Entity B	Cardinality	Relationship Description

4.3.3 Data Integrity Constraints

- Foreign Key Constraints: a child row cannot be created if its referenced key does not exist in the parent table (e.g. an appointment cannot reference a non-existent slot_id, customer_id or lawyer_id).
- Deletion Constraints (ON DELETE CASCADE): deleting a users row automatically removes its matching lawyer_profiles / customer_profiles row and everything that depends on it (appointments, payments, reviews, notifications, audit logs), preventing orphaned data.
- Deletion Constraints (ON DELETE SET NULL): lawyer_profiles.location_id and lawyer_verifications.reviewed_by are set to NULL instead of cascading, so removing a city from the reference list or deleting an Admin account never destroys a lawyer profile or its verification history.
- Unique Constraints: users.email, locations.city_name, specializations.name and password_reset_tokens.token_hash are unique; customer_profiles.user_id, lawyer_profiles.user_id and lawyer_verifications.lawyer_id are unique to enforce the 1:1 relationships; payments.appointment_id and reviews.appointment_id are unique so an appointment carries at most one payment and one review.

DESIGN PLAN	LegalEase	DOCUMENT	Review 1+2 +3
EFFECTIVE DATE	[10/08/2026]	VERSION	1.0

- Composite primary key: lawyer_specialties uses PRIMARY KEY (lawyer_id, specialization_id), so the same specialization cannot be registered twice for one lawyer.
- Enumerated values: status and category fields are declared as ENUM at database level (users.role, lawyer_verifications.status, appointments.status, appointments.cancelled_by, payments.status, notifications.type, content_management.type, email_outbox.delivery_status), so invalid values are rejected by MySQL and not only by the application.
- Time-overlap prevention: the application layer must reject a new appointment whose slot_id is already linked to a non-cancelled appointment (enforced by checking availability_slots.is_available before insert, inside a DB transaction).
- Admin reschedule rule: only the Administrator (process 2.2) may reassign an appointment to a different slot_id; on reassignment the original slot's is_available is reset to 1 before the new slot is reserved.
- Verified + active search visibility: a lawyer only appears in search results (processes 1.0 and 4.0) when lawyer_profiles.is_verified = 1 and the linked users.is_active = 1 — disabling the account (process 2.3) hides the lawyer immediately without touching their verification history.
- Review eligibility: a review can only be inserted for an appointment whose status has already been updated to 'Completed'.
- Payment consistency: a payments row must reference a valid, existing appointment (UNIQUE on appointment_id); the Payments page (4.4) reads the quoted price from appointments.fee, and appointments left unpaid past payment_due_at are auto-cancelled.
- Revenue reporting basis: process 2.5 computes revenue as SUM(payments.amount) WHERE payments.status = 'Success' for the selected period.

4.3.4 Conclusion

This design gives LegalEase a schema that is directly traceable to the Problem Statement: every table exists because a functional requirement needs it, relationships are kept to simple 1:1 / 1:N (with one explicit M:N bridge table for specialties), and the constraints listed above translate the business rules from Review 1 into enforceable database logic. This keeps the schema easy to implement as Laravel Eloquent models/migrations and easy to defend during the project review.

4.4 Sitemap

Per the eProject brief, a sitemap of the LegalEase Web Application is provided below and is also linked from the application's home page. It reflects the actual navigation structure implemented in Review 3, grouped into the public site and the three logged-in portals.

OUR PURPOSE

Making professional legal support easier to understand and access.

Legal services often involve urgent questions, unfamiliar procedures and important financial decisions. LegalEase organizes the first stages of that experience so customers can compare professional information, review availability and understand the cost before committing to a consultation.

The platform does not replace independent legal advice or the professional judgment of a lawyer. Instead, it provides the digital infrastructure that supports discovery, verification, appointment management, payment records, notifications and verified post-consultation feedback.

OUR PROFESSIONAL STANDARDS

Principles that guide the LegalEase experience.
